Fort Saskatchewan, AB T8L 2C5

NOTE: A Notice of Appeal is not deemed complete until payment of the corresponding appeal fee is paid, as set out within the City's Fees and Charges Bylaw.

APPEAL PROCESS AND FAQ

Who can file an appeal? In accordance with the Municipal Government Act, an appeal to the Subdivision and Development Appeal Board can be filed by:

Subdivision Appeals:

- The applicant for a subdivision approval;
- Government department if the application is required by the subdivision and development regulations to be referred to that department
- By the council of the municipality in which the land to be subdivided is located if the council, a designated officer of the municipality or the municipal planning commission of the municipality is not the subdivision authority, or
- By a school board with respect to the allocation of municipal reserve and school reserve or money in place of the reserve, the location of school reserve allocated to it, or the amount of school reserve or money in place of the reserve.

Note: Adjacent land owners are entitled to notification of a subdivision and the ability to attend and speak at a hearing, but are not granted a right to appeal the subdivision.

Development Appeals:

 Appeals can be made to the SDAB if the Development Authority:

- Fails or refuses to issue a development permit to a person,
- Issues a development permit subject to conditions, or
- Issues a stop order pursuant to section 645 of the Municipal Government Act.

In addition to the rights to appeal developments above, any person affected by an order, decision or development permit made or issued by a Development Authority may appeal the decision except where a development permit was issued for a permitted use and the Land Use Bylaw was not varied, relaxed or misinterpreted.

When will the hearing take place? In accordance with the Municipal Government Act, a hearing must commence within 30 days of receiving a Notice of Appeal. Hearings are scheduled based on the availability of the board members.

If you require additional information regarding the Appeal deadlines and procedures of the Board, please contact the Secretary of the Subdivision and Development Appeal Board at:
