HELPING GRIMSBY BUILD BETTER

A GUIDE FOR

A NEW OR REPLACEMENT SEWAGE SYSTEM

WHY DO I NEED A PERMIT?

A building permit is required when installing a new sewage system or replacing an existing one to ensure the system is properly designed, located, and installed in accordance with applicable regulations and the Ontario Building Code.

The permit process helps protect public health, the environment, groundwater, and nearby properties by ensuring the system is suitable for the property and functions safely and effectively.

Obtaining a permit also ensures that the required inspections are completed and that the system meets all applicable requirements.

WHEN DO I NEED A PERMIT?

- A building permit is generally required when installing a new sewage system or replacing an existing sewage system, including the septic tank or leaching bed.
- A building permit may not be required for routine maintenance such as pumping the septic tank, minor repairs that do not affect the design, operation of the system or replacing internal components, or performing general servicing that does not involve alterations to the sewage system.
