

SECTION 7 RESIDENTIAL ZONES

7.0 General Provisions

Within the Residential (R) Zones, no land shall be used, and no building or structure shall be erected or used except for one or more of the Permitted Uses listed for the respective zoning categories in the columns of Section 7.2, subject to the applicable regulations in this section and Sections 4 (General Regulations) and 5 (Transportation Provisions) of this Zoning By-law.

7.1 Purpose

This Zoning By-law has several residential zoning categories to implement the prescribed densities, range of uses and built form outlined in the Township's Official Plan and summarized by the following:

R-1	Low density zone with limited range of housing types for areas on private services
R-2 and R3	Low density zones with an increased range of low-rise housing types for lands on full services. Shall generally maintain a density of 12 to 20 units per gross residential hectare
R-4 and R-5	Medium density zones with a broader range of housing types with some height permissions for lands on full services. Shall generally maintain a density of 20 to 50 units per gross residential hectare
R-6 And R-7	High density zone with a broad range of multiple residential housing types with increased height permissions for lands on full services. Shall generally maintain a density of 50 units per net residential hectare or greater recognizing that certain housing types (e.g., townhouses) may be less.

General Notes
- Regulations noted above that include a letter as a suffix with red text (e.g., ^a), corresponds to the detailed regulations in Section 7.4 (General Regulations). - Reference to “portion thereof” after “1 car garage” in Section 7.3 c) i) second bullet shall be interpreted to be a 1 car garage that is less than the internal size defined in Section 3 and/or is obstructed internally and unable to accommodate a typical parking space of 3.0 metres by 5.5 metres less the allowable encroachment noted in Section 5.7 a) viii). - All measurements in metric – liner measurements in metres (m) and floor/lot area measurements in square metres (m²). - The above requirements applies only if the housing type is permitted in the respective zone outlined in Section 7.2.

General Regulations for Low-Density Residential Housing

- a) The minimum lot area for a townhouse complex is per unit.
- b) Minimum Lot Width as defined in Section 3 of this Zoning Bylaw is calculated at the 6-metre building line setback measured from the front lot line.
- c) Notwithstanding the minimum 3.5 metres setback in Section 7.2 c), a duplex in the R-5 zone requires a minimum 4.5 metre setback.
- d) A single detached lot may have a Minimum Side Yard of 0.6 metres provided that the total distance to the abutting residential unit is not less than 1.8 metres, or not less than 1.2 metres provided the driveways are paired between two lots.
- e) Maximum Lot Coverage – see definition in Section 3 that lists the buildings and structure that are exempt.
- f) Amenity area in the rear yard is measured in square metres per dwelling unit, which may include but is not limited to lawns, decks, patios, swimming pools, gazebos.
- g) No more than 8 units shall be attached in one continuous townhouse block.
- h) A private amenity area for Residential – Townhouse Row shall be provided for each dwelling unit and each such private amenity area shall:
 - i) Not form part of a required side yard but may be located in and form part of the required rear yard;
 - ii) Abut the full length of an exterior wall of the dwelling unit and shall have access to a habitable room (other than a bedroom) or to a hall;
 - iii) Have a minimum depth (from the wall of the dwelling unit) of not less than 6 metres;
- i) Notwithstanding Section 4.2, detached garages on lots with a single detached, semi-detached, and duplex may have a minimum setback to one side lot line of 0.6 metres.

- j) Minor variations to the applicable Building Line Setback for the front wall of the residential unit, required in this Section, are permitted to accommodate features such as recessed entranceways, angled windows and other such architectural features and such features will be interpreted as forming part of the front wall.
- k) Daylighting triangles shall be deemed to be part of a lot only for the purpose of calculating lot width, frontage, lot area, lot coverage and building line setbacks.
- l) For the purpose of measuring Building Line Setback from a Front Lot Line and Side Lot Line that are connected by a curve forming part of an inside roadway, but not at an intersection, the Building Line Setback shall be measured perpendicular from the nearest point of the building/structure to the Front Lot Line or Side Lot Line, or the virtual extension of the Front Lot Line and Side Lot Line to a point of intersection.
- m) Residential Condominium Approved Development, pursuant to The Planning Act, shall be deemed to be a Residential Building - Multiple or Residential – Townhouse Cluster development and GMHD as defined in Section 3 and listed in Section 7.2. Internal lot lines created by
 - i) A phased registration of a plan of condominium; or
 - ii) A plan or plans of condominium registered on a portion of a lot which is part of a comprehensively planned development subject to a Development Agreement pursuant to Section 41 of the Planning Act, shall not be construed to be lot lines for the purpose of zoning regulations provided that all applicable regulations of this Zoning By-law relative to the whole lot and its external lot lines, existing prior to any condominium plan registration are strictly observed.
- n) Notwithstanding Section 7.3 c), for residential lots within neighbourhoods that are zoned either R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, or R-5 and do not contain a 'A' suffix pursuant to Section 7.5 , then the minimum and maximum building line setback for the front wall of the residential building of any proposed replacement and/or expansion of such residential building shall be in accordance with the following:
 - i) The minimum building line setback for the front wall of the residential building shall be the “established building line setback” as defined in paragraphs iii) or iv) below minus one metre. In all other cases, the minimum building line setback shall be in accordance with the regulations’ table in Section 7.3 for the permitted use; and
 - ii) The maximum building line setback for the front wall of the residential building shall be the “established building line setback” as defined in paragraphs iii) or iv) below plus one metre. In all other cases, the required building line setback shall be in accordance with the regulations’ table in Section 7.3 for the permitted use.

- iii) For purpose of paragraphs i), ii) and v) of this section, an “established building line setback” means in the case of a lot that is not a corner lot: the average building line setback for the front wall of the residential building of the abutting lots that are zoned R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4 or R-5. In cases where there is a vacant lot abutting the affected lot, the average building line setback for the front wall of the residential building will be from the next adjacent lot that is zoned R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4 or R-5; and
- iv) For purpose of paragraphs i), ii) and v), an “established building line setback” means in the case of a corner lot: the building line setback for the front wall of the residential building of the abutting lot that is zoned R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4 or R-5, in which the principal pedestrian entrance is oriented towards the same street, and where there is a vacant lot abutting the affected lot, the building line setback for the front wall of the residential building will be from the next adjacent lot that is zoned R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4 or R-5.
- v) Despite i) above, if the “established building line setback” is within 6 metres from the front lot line, then all attached or detached garages shall maintain a minimum building line setback of 6 metres. In all other cases, the attached or detached garage shall comply to the “established building line setback”.

7.5 Design Guidelines Regulations

If the mapping in Schedule ‘B’ identifies the zoning category abbreviation with an ‘A’ symbol suffix (e.g., R-5A) then the property is subject to the following design guideline regulations:

- a) Notwithstanding the Building Line Setback - Front Wall requirements in Section 7.3 c), the setback of the front wall of the garage shall be equal to or greater than the setback of the front wall of the residential unit except where noted in Subsection d), below. Where a front porch is attached to a residential unit, the garage may extend in front of the front wall of the main building but shall not extend beyond the front porch and, in all cases, shall maintain a minimum 6-metre building line setback.
- b) For the purpose of Subsection 7.5 a) above, a front porch shall be attached to the front wall of the residential unit, covered by only a roof, have a minimum average depth of 1.5 metres and shall cover a minimum of 40% of the width of the residential unit (including the garage). Where the garage extends in front of the front wall of the portion of the residential unit with a front porch but does not extend in front of the remaining portion of the front wall of the residence that does not have a porch, then the combined width of the porch and the remainder of the front wall must cover the minimum 40% of the width of the residential unit provided the front porch has a minimum width of 3 metres.

- c) For the purpose of measuring the applicable Building Line Setback to a Front Lot Line that is curved, the Building Line Setback is measured from the applicable building/structure (i.e., garage, front wall, or porch of the house) to a line that is tangent to the curvature of the Front Lot Line and paralleled to the applicable building/structure.
- d) Notwithstanding Subsection a) and b) above, a garage may extend up to 1.37 metres in front of the front wall of a residence or the front wall of a front porch provided:
 - i) The exterior width of the garage does not exceed 50% of the width of the house, including the garage;
 - ii) The exterior width of the garage does not exceed 7.65 metres;
 - iii) The front wall of the garage has a minimum setback of 6 metres plus the amount the garage extends in front of the residence (i.e., If the garage extends 1 metre in front of the residence, then the setback would be 6 metre + 1 metre = 7 metres); and
 - iv) That a maximum of 10% of the homes on any one street may have the garage extending in front of the front wall of the residence or porch.

To determine the percentage of homes in Subsection 7.5 d) iv) above, streets containing less than 10 homes may have a maximum of 1 home with a garage extending in front of the front wall of the residence or porch, subject to the above-noted regulations. To calculate the percentage (10%) for streets containing more than 10 homes, any fraction or part of a home shall be rounded to the lower whole number.

- e) Notwithstanding Subsection b) above, a front porch required under this section may have a width that is less than 40% of the house (including the garage), subject to the following:
 - i) The front porch shall have a minimum width of 3 metres (10 feet) and a minimum average depth of 1.5 metres and must be attached to the front wall of the residential unit;
 - ii) The porch must extend a minimum of 0.9 metres in front of the front wall of the garage; and
 - iii) The maximum exterior width of the garage, measured from exterior pier to pier, shall be 7.65 metres.

For the purposes of measuring minimum front porch width of 3 metres as noted in e) i) above, for lots with lot width equal to or less than 11 metres, the minimum porch foundation width shall be 2.6 metres and the minimum width of the roof above the porch measured between the eaves shall be 3 metres (note: maximum overhang of eaves shall be 0.3 metres). For lots greater than 11 metres in width the minimum porch foundation width shall be 3 metres.

- f) Notwithstanding the sub-sections above, the following provisions applies to a house with a three-car garage:
 - i) The lot shall have a minimum frontage of 18 metres (60 feet) or greater;
 - ii) The front porch shall have a minimum width of 4.6 metres (15 feet) and must be attached to the front wall of the residential unit;

- iii) The porch shall extend a minimum of 1 metre (3.2 feet) in front of the front wall of the garage; and
 - iv) Maximum exterior width of the garage, measured from exterior pier to pier, shall be 9.15 metres.
- g) Notwithstanding the sub-sections above, a side-loaded garage, of which, the garage door(s) is facing the side yard and not the front yard, may be permitted to extend in front of the front wall of the residence subject to the following:
 - i) Are only permitted on lots exceeding 23 metre (75 feet) in lot width; and
 - ii) The front wall of the garage must have an architectural treatment giving the appearance of a residential room including facing treatment and windows.
